

MayTech Global Investments, LLC (“MayTech”) is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an investment adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ, and it is important for retail investors to understand the differences. What investment services and advice can you provide me?	MayTech offers investment advisory services to retail and institutional investors. MayTech’s advisory services include portfolio management of separately managed accounts, model delivery, sub-management of institutional portfolios and a private hedge fund. We continuously monitor all accounts based on the investment guidelines and objectives, as part of our standard advisory services. We also advise a private hedge fund, which has retail investors. Hedge fund investment guidelines and restrictions are described in a private fund offering document available only to qualified investors. Generally, advisory services are discretionary, however MayTech manages a limited number of non-discretionary accounts. Discretionary means we buy and sell securities in our clients’ accounts without seeking approval. Non-discretionary means the client makes the ultimate decision regarding purchases and sales of investments. If a client is restricted from certain investments, MayTech will tailor its services accordingly. Clients with Separately Managed Accounts will sign an investment management agreement giving us this authority. This agreement will remain in place until you or MayTech terminate the relationship. Any restrictions will be detailed in this agreement. Client account holdings primarily include equities but may also include fixed income and exchange traded funds (“ETFs”) securities listed on major market exchanges and a private hedge fund we manage. For more information, including minimum investment amounts, please see our Form ADV Part 2A (Items 4 and 7), available on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at https://files.adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/Content/Common/crd_iapd_Brochure.aspx?BRCHR_VRSN_ID=684693
Conversation Starter	You are encouraged to ask a financial professional and start a conversation with the following additional questions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? – How will you choose which investments to recommend to me? – What is your relevant experience, including licenses, education and other qualifications? – What do these qualifications mean?
What fees will I pay?	I. Separately Managed Account Fee Schedule: a. Per annum fees for accounts with a market value of less than $10 million: 1.50% of the first $2,500,000; 1.40 of the next $2,500,000; 1.30% of the next $2,500,000; 1.20% of the next $2,499,999 b. Per annum fees for accounts with a market value equal or greater than $10 million: 1.25% of the first $10,000,000; 0.90% of the remaining balance II. Hedge Fund Fee Schedule: Investors pay both management and performance fees. a. Management Fee is 1.5% annually. b. Performance fee of 12% for original founder investors and 20% for all other investors. Performance fee is a reallocation of net profits to the account of the General Partner of the hedge fund from the capital account of each fund investor. Performance fee is charged only when fund investors’ accounts’ performance exceeds the highest previous gain achieved or valuation mark. All advisory and management fees are paid in advance on the first day of the quarter, for separate accounts, and on the first day of each month for private fund investors. All fees are calculated based on each client’s account market value provided by the custodian. The above fees are exclusive of other fees separate account and hedge fund investors will pay, e.g., brokerage commissions, transaction fees, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, other fees and taxes on securities transactions, due diligence expenses, news and quotation service expenses, and, indirectly, fees charged by ETFs and mutual funds. The more assets there are in your advisory account, the more you will pay in fees, and our firm may therefore have an incentive to encourage you to increase the assets in your account. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amounts of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. For detailed information about our fees and other costs, please see our Form ADV Part 2A, including Item 5 and Item 6 , on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure

Conversation Starter	You are encouraged to ask a financial professional and start a conversation with the following additional questions about the impact of fees and costs on investments: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?
What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?	When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – The more assets there are in a client’s advisory account, the more a retail investor will pay in fees, and our firm may therefore have an incentive to encourage the retail investor to increase the assets in his or her account or to engage in riskier investment techniques to increase the account size. – There are potential conflicts of interest that arise when managing side-by-side fixed fee accounts and performance fee accounts due to an incentive to favor higher fee-paying accounts in the allocation of investment opportunities. Performance fee arrangements can create an incentive for MayTech to recommend investments that are riskier or more speculative than those which would be recommended under a different fee arrangement. There is also the conflict of providing preferential treatment to private funds and investors over others in terms of allocation of management time, resources, and investment opportunities. – A conflict may also exist from certain client accounts owning investments that MayTech, its employees, or its owners and their affiliates are also invested in. For detailed information about our conflicts of interest, please see our Form ADV Part 2A, including Item 5, Item 10, Item 12 and Item 14, posted on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at: https://files.adviserinfo.sec.gov/IAPD/Content/Common/crd_iapd_Brochure.aspx?BRCHR_VRSN_ID=684693
