The Best Financial Advisory Firms 2025 awarded the top firms in the United States based on two dimensions:

- Recommendations from financial advisors, clients, and industry experts:
Recommendations were collected via an independent survey among over 30,000 individuals. Clients, industry experts, and financial advisors working for a firm could recommend the firms they find commendable.
- Development of Assets under Management (AUM):
AUM development was analyzed both in the short- and long-term using publicly available data. Short-term AUM development was calculated over a twelve-month period from January 2024 to January 2025, while long-term development spanned a five-year period from 2020 to 2025.

Based on the results of the study, MayTech is ecstatic to be recognized on USA TODAY's list of the Best Financial Advisory Firms 2025.
