Form ADV Part 3/CRS

October 23, 2026

MayTech Global Investments, LLC ("MayTech") is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an investment adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ, and it is important for retail investors to understand the differences. There are free and simple tools available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investments advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?	MayTech offers investment advisory services to retail and institutional investors. MayTech's advisory services include portfolio management of separately managed accounts, model delivery, sub-management of institutional portfolios and a private hedge fund. We continuously monitor all accounts based on the investment guidelines and objectives, as part of our standard advisory services. MayTech also serves as sub-adviser to the MayTech Global Growth ETF (ticker: MTGG) (the "ETF"), an actively managed exchange-traded fund of Tidal Trust IV; its adviser, Tidal Investments LLC ("Tidal"), is not affiliated with MayTech. The ETF follows our Global Growth strategy. ETF shareholders are not our advisory clients; we do not monitor, tailor or restrict the ETF for any shareholder. In 2026, eligible separately managed account clients could voluntarily exchange their account securities for ETF shares in an intended tax-deferred Section 351 exchange (the "Conversion"), giving up individualized management, restrictions and our reporting on those assets. The ETF's prospectus is at [ETF website]. Generally, advisory services are discretionary; however, MayTech manages a limited number of non-discretionary accounts. Discretionary means we buy and sell securities in our clients' accounts without seeking approval. Non-discretionary means the client makes the ultimate decision regarding purchases and sales of investments. If a client is restricted from certain investments, MayTech will tailor its services accordingly. Separately managed account clients sign an investment management agreement granting this authority and listing any restrictions; it remains in place until either party terminates it. Client account holdings primarily include equities but may also include fixed income and exchange-traded funds ("ETFs") listed on major market exchanges and a private hedge fund we manage. For more information, including minimum investment amounts, please see our Form ADV Part 2A (Items 4 and 7), available on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/285985
Conversation Starter	Consider asking your financial professional: – Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? – How will you choose which investments to recommend to me? – What is your relevant experience, including licenses, education and other qualifications? – What do these qualifications mean?
What fees will I pay?	I. Separately Managed Account Fee Schedule: a. Per annum fees for accounts with a market value of less than $10 million: 1.50% of the first $2,500,000; 1.40 of the next $2,500,000; 1.30% of the next $2,500,000; 1.20% of the next $2,499,999 b. Per annum fees for accounts with a market value equal to or greater than $10 million: 1.25% of the first $10,000,000; 0.90% of the remaining balance II. Hedge Fund Fee Schedule: Investors pay both management and performance fees. a. Management Fee is 1.5% annually. b. Performance fee of 12% for original founder investors and 20% for all other investors. The performance fee is allocated to the General Partner only on gains above each investor's high-water mark. III. ETF: ETF shareholders pay MayTech no advisory fee. They bear the ETF's expense ratio of [●]% per year, deducted from fund assets, plus brokerage commissions and bid-ask spreads when buying or selling ETF shares. Tidal pays MayTech a sub-advisory fee out of the ETF's unitary management fee. We do not bill our advisory fee on ETF shares held in your account. For converted clients, the expense ratio replaced our 0.90%–1.50% account fee, but the services differ as described above. Separate account fees are paid quarterly in advance and hedge fund fees monthly in advance, based on account market values provided by the custodian. The above fees are exclusive of other fees separate account, hedge fund and ETF investors will pay, e.g., brokerage commissions, transaction and custodial fees, transfer and wire fees, taxes, and, indirectly, fees charged by ETFs and mutual funds. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amounts of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. For detailed information about our fees and other costs, please see our Form ADV Part 2A, including Items 4, 5 and 6, on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/285985

Conversation Starter	Consider asking your financial professional: – Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?
What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?	When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means. – The more assets there are in a client's advisory account, the more a retail investor will pay in fees, and our firm may therefore have an incentive to encourage the retail investor to increase the assets in his or her account or to engage in riskier investment techniques to increase the account size. – There are potential conflicts of interest that arise when managing side-by-side fixed fee accounts and performance fee accounts due to an incentive to favor higher fee-paying accounts in the allocation of investment opportunities. Performance fee arrangements can create an incentive for MayTech to recommend investments that are riskier or more speculative than those which would be recommended under a different fee arrangement. – A conflict may also exist from certain client accounts owning investments that MayTech, its employees, or its owners and their affiliates are also invested in. – We sub-advise the ETF and are paid by its adviser based on the ETF's assets, so we have an incentive to recommend the ETF or a conversion of your account into it, and to grow the ETF, over other options; managing the ETF alongside separate accounts also creates trade allocation conflicts. We address these through voluntary, documented elections, written fee and service comparisons, not billing on ETF shares, trade rotation and compliance review. For detailed information about our conflicts of interest, please see our Form ADV Part 2A, including Items 5, 6, 10, 11, 12 and 14, posted on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at: https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/285985
Conversation starter	Consider asking your financial professional: – How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?
How do your financial professionals make money?	Our financial professionals are compensated based on salary, bonus and profit sharing, which is determined based on the net income of our firm.
Do you or your financial professional have legal or disciplinary history?	No. You may visit https://www.investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research us and our financial professionals.
Conversation starter	Consider asking your financial professional: – As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?
Additional Information	Additional information about our services is in our Form ADV Part 2A, available at http://www.maytechglobal.com. To request up-to-date information or a copy of this relationship summary, call (212) 899-2730
Conversation starter	Consider asking your financial professional: – Who is my primary contact person? Is he or she a representative of an investment adviser or a broker dealer? Who can I talk to if I have concerns about how this person is treating me?

Material changes since March 27, 2025: Item 2 – ETF sub-advisory role and 2026 Section 351 Conversion; Item 3 – ETF fees and related conflicts.